

Building up funds for the Old Spot Trust - 1 February 2008

The funds of the Old Spot Trust have been 'built up' by £70 thanks to the generosity of a group of people at Gloucestershire County Council.

The team in the council's Corporate Building Services decided not to send Christmas cards to one another. Instead, they decided to donate the money they would have spent on personal Christmas cards to a local charity.

The names of a number of local charities were put into a hat – and The Old Spot Trust was the one drawn out.
